

Adam Lane Bergquist (MFA)

Adam is a professional educator, actor, director and vocal coach from Vancouver, Canada. With an MFA in Theatre and a post-graduate diploma in Voice Teaching from York University in Toronto, Adam has taught many courses at Universities and in private studios. As an actor he has performed all over Canada in shows ranging from classical Shakespeare to experimental theatre. He has coached actors, business people, social workers and students of many disciplines in speech production and dialects for theatre and public presentations. With many years of practice in the Linkater Voice Technique, he has developed a unique approach to training and creativity that works with the individual's imagination. His method is both energetic and encouraging, according to the learning style and the needs of the individual. He also produces performances with his own theatre company: one2theatre. Adam is a member Canadian Theatre and Film Guilds (CAEA and ACTRA) as well as the international Voice and Speech Trainers' Association (VASTA).
